Storyteller singer-songwriter Kevin Virgil Wallace shares Love For All, his fourth collection of all-original material. The songs address the shared human experience, while promoting the importance of embracing love for all humanity.

For two decades, Wallace has been focused on his work as founding director of the Beatrice Wood Center for the Arts in Ojai, California.

Caring for the legacy of Beatrice Wood and the fascinating individuals who were part of her life, including those who created the Happy Valley Foundation, Wallace kept his work as a singer/songwriter secret from all but a small group of close friends. Recognizing that, to a large extent, he was in the inspiration business as much as the art business—caring for an individual who lived life on her own terms to the age of 105—he decided that it was time to step up to the plate and debut his first collection at the age of 60.

Love For All serves as a continuation of Wallace's storytelling skills and the distinct retro vibe that defines his previous three albums Virgil, Waiting Home, and The Center.
